Archaeology field schools are unique learning experiences where students are engaged in research, including the collection, recording, and analysis of archaeological data. Full and ongoing student participation is mandatory & daily attendance is required. The field school meets 5.5 days a week, from 8 am - 4 pm. Because we will be in a state park, our schedule will be adjust to work part of each weekend.

• If currently enrolled in college or university, please indicate institution & your major field of study:

• List anthropology, archaeology, and/or related courses that you have completed or are taking now:

• Other experience/skills (e.g., mapping, drawing, carpentry, etc.) pertinent to field school work:

• On the back of this form or on an attached sheet, provide a brief statement explaining your interest in attending the field school.

PLEASE note any food allergies or issues, as well as health issues. Food variety is limited, but we will try to accommodate. Work can be strenuous, so we must know about health issues.

List name & contact information for one reference (faculty member or other supervisor). We will contact the reference via email or phone in considering applications (if the referee prefers, they can email a reference letter to lynneg@msu.edu). _____

Applications will be evaluated as they are received. Upon receipt of an acceptance notification, students will register with MSU & send deposit of $150 to MSU Department of Anthropology to secure their place in the field school. The remainder of the $500 fee is due by May 3, 2013.

Mail this completed form and an unofficial copy of transcripts to: Dr. Lynne Goldstein, Consortium for Archaeological Research, Michigan State University, 817 E. Shaw Lane, Room E-29, East Lansing, MI 48825 or email to lynneg@msu.edu.
